Requirements

Participation

We would like active participation through a presentation in one of our many sessions.

For all speakers, AG 19 will therefore cover the organisation and costs of accommodation and meals at the venue (self-booked services, extras or travel costs will not be covered). Please upload your abstract directly in the registration form for the event.

Participation is also possible without a presentation. If you wish to participate in the event without giving a presentation, you can skip the field for uploading the abstract when registering.

Registration until November 4th, 2024 via herzmedizin.de/fortbilden/39004

Abstract formalities

- Abstract title: Up to 200 characters including spaces
- Abstract content: Up to 3500 characters including spaces (including table)
- Graphics: Up to one figure
- Language: Event languages are German and English (preferred)
- Deadline abstract registration: November, 4th 2024

If you have any questions about registration, please send an email to arbeitsgruppen@dgk.org

Gemeinsam mit

Themenbereich Kardiologie Allgemein

Dear colleagues, on behalf of Working Group 19 "Cardiovascular Hemostasis and Antithrombotic Therapy" of the German Society for Cardiology – Heart and Circulation Research e. V., the Cardiovascular Basic Research Working Group of the Austrian Cardiological Society (ÖGK) and the working group Swiss cardiologists of tomorrow (SCOT) of the Swiss Society of Cardiology (SGK), we would like to cordially invite you to the ninth Atherothrombosis Winter School.

We are very pleased that the Winter School is being held for the first time as an international joint meeting with the ÖGK and SCOT. In addition to exchanging ideas on the scientific focus of platelet research, hemostasis and inflammation, we would like to network young scientists and established researchers. In a lecture session "Beside bench" designed jointly with the ÖGK and SCOT, we would like to shed light on topics that affect young scientists and clinician scientists in their everyday professional lives.

We look forward to many exciting lectures and a scientifically enriching ninth Atherothrombosis Winter School.

Dr. Diona Gjermeni
